

Our new journey...

Dear friends and customers,

Welcome to our new season releases.

This year is an exciting one as we complete celebrating 25 years.

However, time has come to launch an exciting new journey.

To start with we have over the last three years been developing and building a very unique botanical farm at Matakana, just one hour north of Auckland. It is here we are growing and distilling many of our key ingredients utilised in our products. We are also surrounded by many of our growers producing Olive and Macadamia oil with our beekeepers nearby. We now live and breathe what we enjoy.

With a true commitment to New Zealand and our local regions time has also come to announce our new home and company name

"Matakana Botanicals".

Our new contemporary designed barns where our offices and warehouse are located are also so "green" we don't require the outside world....bliss! However, this special environment is allowing us to be inspired to create more unique products at grass roots level, source our ingredients from the farm gate and deliver to the high street. Over this next year we have more exciting announcements.

We are also pleased to launch our unique new range "Matakana Botanicals" where the aromas have been inspired by our local region. In addition we have a fresh line up of vibrant coloured candles in the Great Barrier Island Bee Co range. This is complimented with new bee venom hand creams and lip balms all utilising skin loving Manuka honey. Across all our ranges is a new season kiwiana styled collection of gift packs which are sure to appeal to all lifestyles.

It's been an exciting 25 years so far and we look forward to you joining us on our new journey.

Kindest regards,

Danvers Devereux
